Dear Eric:

I am writing this letter to you as a marketing entrepreneur and a user of the amazing Power Plane!

This is the perfect fitness and balance product for the modern age. It is well constructed of high quality wood. I'm sure it will last forever. It takes up very little space and performs a myriad of the most valuable exercise programs for strength, endurance, balance and general fitness that I have ever witnessed.

It is the most adaptable product for general health I have ever used. It is ideal for all ages, girls, boys, men and women, seniors and persons who are limited in their flexibility and strength. Professional athletes will find it can give them a workout for every aspect of their sport. Schools will note that children will not only love using this product, but will achieve athletic and fitness superiority faster and more efficiently than any other method.

There is no end to the number of fitness and balancing exercises that can be accomplished with the Power Plane. This wonderful product will, without a doubt, become one of the most remarkable successes in the fitness and health arena in a very short period of time.

I strongly recommend this product to individuals, hospitals and therapy centers, sports associations, schools, and to every retailer who wants a product that will bring them profits and applause from consumers!

The construction of the Power Plane is almost like an indestructible piece of art. If retailers had demonstrations of this product either live or on video, they could not keep up with sales. You have kept the price at a very attractive value as well.

Congratulations and best wishes for every success. If I can be a part of this terrific product I will offer whatever resources and marketing skills I possess.

Best regards,

Bob Strom
